

Photo caption:

Some 100 student teams from across five continents were selected for the next round of Airbus' 2013 Fly Your Ideas competition, which challenges students worldwide to develop ideas for a more sustainable aviation industry.