WELCOME TO THE AIRBUS GROUP UK PENSION SCHEME

Investment guide
The Airbus Group UK Retirement Plan is an important part of your reward package. This guide aims to help you choose the funds in which to invest your personal Retirement Fund.
Introduction

This guide aims to help you choose the funds in which to invest your personal Retirement Fund.

The Airbus Group UK Retirement Plan (the Retirement Plan) is a defined contribution pension scheme. This means that when you retire, you can use the money that has built up in your Retirement Fund to provide income in your retirement; for example to buy a pension (this is also known as an annuity). The value of your Retirement Fund will depend on the amount you and your employer pay in and the investment returns of the funds you choose. This guide will also be helpful for Schedule 1 members or Schedule 2 and 3 members who have AVCs.

The Trustee of the Plan has set up an automatic investment option for members of the Airbus Group Retirement Plan; called the Airbus Drawdown Lifestyle. This invests in a way that suits the typical saving habits of most long term investors. If you are a member of Schedule 1 or Schedule 2 and 3 and have AVCs, your automatic fund is the Airbus Cash Lifestyle. If you don’t make a personal choice on how to invest your savings, this is where your contributions will be invested.

If you don’t think the automatic fund will suit your needs, you can select where to invest your savings based on how you want your investments managed, and how you want to use your savings when you retire. The Trustee has appointed Legal & General to manage the investments and provide a range of administration services.

If after reading this guide, you are unsure where to invest your savings, you may wish to seek advice from an Independent Financial Adviser (IFA). There is normally a charge for this service. To find an IFA in your area you can contact IFA Promotion Limited on 0800 085 3250 or visit their website www.unbiased.co.uk.

About investing

For some people, selecting where to invest their retirement savings will be the first time that they have had to make an investment choice.

One of the key things to remember is that some types of investment will grow your money faster than others over time but there is also the chance that the value of an investment can fall – we call this risk.

Investment funds that tend to give the highest growth usually carry more risk of losing value. At the start of your working life, you may feel more comfortable carrying more risk as there is a possibility of getting a good return over a long period of time. As you approach retirement, funds that offer lower returns but more security may become more attractive.

Your personal attitude to risk will help you to decide which investment options are right for you. Legal & General has designed a tool to help you think about your attitudes to risk. You can find it at www.legalandgeneral.com/atrtool.

Types of asset

The available funds you can choose to invest in are split over the following categories:

Equities
These are shares in companies which are traded on stock markets in the UK and overseas. Companies may pay dividends to shareholders and the capital value of the shares can increase (or fall) over time. Over the long term, shares tend to give higher returns than most other assets, but you may see the value rise or fall in the short term.

Bonds
A bond is a loan to a company or government, for which they pay interest and should return the value of the bond at the end of an agreed term. Bonds issued by the UK government are known as gilts. Bonds are commonly viewed as less risky than equities and are less likely to have significant changes in value in the short term.

Property
A property fund will invest in offices, shopping centres and other commercial property. Returns are generated through rental income and changes in the value of each property. Property is expected to outperform bonds over the long term, but will be subject to more short term fluctuations in value.

Cash
A cash fund will usually work much the same way as a normal savings account, with some investments in short term loans to banks. Cash investments can offer a high level of security, but a fairly low level of growth in the long term. However, most cash investments don’t protect against inflation, so there’s no guarantee that your money will grow at the same rate as this.

Diversified growth
A diversified growth fund will invest in a range of different asset classes, including equities and bonds among others. The proportion invested in each asset class will change over time. Returns are expected to be higher than bonds but lower than equities, although the fund is less prone to significant short term changes in value than equities.

Lifestyle
Lifestyle funds are designed for members who prefer to be “hands off” with their investments and will automatically invest your savings in appropriate funds. When you are further away from retirement you’ll generally be invested in funds to target high growth. Your investments will then automatically switch to lower risk investments as you approach retirement.
Inflation risk
If you invest in funds that are expected to have low returns over the long term, such as cash, there is a risk that your savings may not keep up with inflation. Cash is mainly used as a short term investment by those very close to retirement, especially if they want to take part of their savings as a cash sum.

Capital risk
Most often associated with equities, this is the risk that your savings fall in value. This is something most people try to avoid when they are close to retirement, as a fall in the value of your savings will affect the income you receive. This risk can be reduced by moving your savings out of assets with higher capital risk, such as equities, as you approach the age at which you decide to retire and into other assets, such as bonds.

Annuity rate risk
In retirement you can choose to buy a pension (annuity) that pays you an income for life. If the price of annuities goes up just before you retire, your pension will be lower. That is why bonds are often a popular choice for people who are close to retirement as the prices of bonds and annuities are closely linked.
Making your investment choices

Now you understand a little more about the types of assets and risks, you need to know what your investment options are in the Scheme and decide which of these is most suitable for you to invest your savings.

There are three key questions to consider when selecting where to invest:

1. Is the automatic fund right for me?

If you do not make a choice, your savings will automatically be invested in the automatic fund. If you don’t think the automatic fund will suit your needs, you can select where to invest based on how you want your investments managed, and how you want to use your savings when you retire.

If you are a member of the Airbus Group Retirement Plan you will automatically be invested in the Airbus Drawdown Lifestyle fund. This fund is suitable for members who expect to take 25% of their savings as cash and use the remainder as an income drawdown product. You can find out more about this fund on page 6.

If you are a member of Schedule 1, or are a member of Schedule 2 or 3 but pay AVCs, you’ll automatically be invested in the Airbus Cash Lifestyle fund. This fund is suitable for members who expect to take all their savings as a cash sum. You can find out more about these funds on page 7.

If you are unsure which schedule you are in, please contact us at ukpensions@airbus.com.

2. How do I want my investments to be managed?

There are two options, depending on how active you would like to be when managing your investments.

Lifestyle

The Trustee understands that making investment decisions is not easy. To help you, it has put together an investment approach called ‘Lifestyle’, which manages the switching of your investments for you. Its aim is to try to make sure you are invested in the right type of fund at the right time depending on when you are due to retire and what you intend to do with your savings when you do. It means that you do not need to make detailed investment decisions. You can find out more about the Lifestyle options from page 6.

Self-select

Alternatively, you can choose to invest your savings in a range of investment funds which are designed to meet the needs of most members. This is called the ‘Self-select’ option. This gives you more control over where you are invested, but these funds do not automatically adjust your exposure to risk as you approach retirement so it will be your responsibility to decide when and if you may wish to switch your investments. You can find out more about the Self-select options from page 8.

3. How do I want to take my benefits at retirement?

The way you invest should be linked with how you intend to use your savings when you retire. Following changes the government implemented in 2015, you have more flexibility and options for how you use your savings. This question is particularly important if you are within 15 years of retiring as this is when the Lifestyle options start to switch where you are invested based on how you are expecting to use your savings.

Members of the Airbus Group Retirement Plan (Schedule 4) can find out more about the options they have at retirement in their Scheme booklet. However, we’d encourage all members who are approaching retirement; you should access the government’s Pension Wise guidance service at www.singlefinancialguidancebody.org.uk and consider taking independent advice to help you with your decision.

The Lifestyle options target the different benefit options, which we have explained in more detail from page 6. If you choose to invest in Self-select, you will be responsible for ensuring your savings are invested appropriately at retirement.
Your Lifestyle options

If you have decided you would like your investments managed for you, you have three options available to you. Each Lifestyle option targets a different retirement option.

How do the Lifestyle options work?

Lifestyle options are split into two key phases, the Growth Phase and the Switching Phase.

The Growth Phase: This is the same in each of the Lifestyle options with the aim of achieving good long-term growth for your savings. During the Growth Phase, the Lifestyle option invests mainly in equities.

The Switching Phase: The Switching Phase starts 15 years before your Target Retirement Age. Where your savings are invested during the Switching Phase depends on which Lifestyle option you are invested in.

If you decide to invest in a Lifestyle option or stay in your automatic fund, it is important that you regularly review your Target Retirement Age as it is used to determine when your Switching Phase will begin. If your Target Retirement Age does not reflect when you aim to retire you could lose out on potential investment returns or be exposed to unnecessary investment risk.

Airbus Drawdown Lifestyle

This fund is suitable for members who expect to transfer their savings to another provider to access an income drawdown product, take a series of cash lump sums, or use a combination of retirement benefits.

This is the automatic fund for members of the Airbus Group Retirement Plan.

When you are many years away from retirement, the fund will fully invest in Global Equities. Then, when you are 15 years from retirement, your investments will gradually be moved to the more cautious Diversified Fund and Bond funds to reduce the impact of possible investment market falls. In the last five years a small amount of cash is introduced, as we assume you will want to take the maximum 25% of tax-free cash.
Airbus Cash Lifestyle

This fund is suitable for members to take all their savings as a cash sum at retirement.

This is the automatic fund for members of Schedule 1 or Schedule 2 and 3 members who have AVCs.

When you are many years away from retirement, the fund will fully invest in Global Equities. Then, when you have 15 years from retirement, your investments will gradually be moved to the more cautious Diversified and Bond funds to reduce the impact of possible investment market falls. In the last five years, Cash is introduced. This approach is believed to deliver more growth over the life of the investment and a smoother pathway for removing investment risk towards retirement.

Airbus Annuity Lifestyle

This fund is suitable for members who plan to use their savings to purchase an annuity at retirement.

When you are many years away from retirement, the fund will fully invest in Global Equities. Then, when you have 15 years from retirement, your investments will gradually be moved to the more cautious Diversified and Bond funds to reduce the impact of possible investment market falls. In the last five years, Index Linked Gilts and Fixed Interest Gilts are introduced to reduce the investment risk of the fund whilst still maintaining a level of growth. We also introduce a small amount of cash at this stage, as we assume you will want to take the maximum 25% of tax-free cash.
Your Self-select options

If you have decided you would like to take a more active role in managing your investments, you can choose to invest your savings in our Self-select funds.

These have been designed to meet the needs of most members, and are provided by Legal & General. You can choose to invest your savings in one or multiple funds.

Charges

There are charges for investing in each fund. These cover both the administration of the Plan itself and managing of the investment funds by Legal & General.

The total charge will be deducted from the value of your savings on a daily basis, through the unit pricing mechanism. As you are part of a large scheme you benefit from lower investment charges than if you invested privately.

To find out the investment changes for your funds, visit the Manage Your Account section on the Legal & General website. Here you will find the latest fund fact sheets which have the up to date fund charges. Please note that fund charges may change and this is at the discretion of Legal & General and not the Trustees.

In addition to the individual fund charges, you will also be charged an administration fee. This covers the expenses related to administering your account and is currently 0.14%.

How do I select where I’d like to invest?

You can update your investment choices at any time in the Manage Your Account section of the Legal and General website.

Remember, if you decide to invest in a Lifestyle option or stay in your automatic fund, it is important that you regularly review your Target Retirement Age as it is used to determine when your Switching Phase will begin.
